April Boellstorff is the new Director of Social Services/Operations-Auburn with Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska

April Boellstorff is the new Director of Social Services/Operations-Auburn with Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska.

Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska has announced the appointment of April Boellstorff as the new Director of Social Services/Operations-Auburn. Boellstorff is a resident of Auburn and has served as the Auburn executive for the past four years.

Boellstorff has more than 15 years of experience in non-profit management and leadership. She previously served as the executive director of the Nebraska Food Bank and has worked in the fields of human services and community development. She holds a degree in social work from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Boellstorff is excited to join the Auburn team and contribute to the mission of Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska. She looks forward to building relationships with partners in the community and providing support and resources to those in need.

Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska is a Catholic, non-profit organization that provides services to people of all faiths and backgrounds. The agency offers a wide range of programs and services to meet the needs of individuals and families, including food assistance, clothing and household items, and transportation services.

Boellstorff said, “I am excited to be part of this opportunity. We have something amazing here that we can build on and strengthen to better serve our community. We are committed to making a difference in the lives of those we serve.”

The agency is headquartered in Auburn and has locations in Lincoln, Grand Island, Norfolk, and North Platte. Catholic Social Services is a member of the National Catholic Social Action Network and is a partner agency of the Diocese of Grand Island.

Boellstorff can be reached at 402-274-3131 or aprilboellstorff@catholicssn.org.

Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska offers a variety of services to help people in need. These include food assistance, clothing and household items, transportation services, and crisis intervention.

The agency strives to provide a warm, welcoming environment where people feel respected and valued.

Please visit the Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska website for more information about the services they offer.

Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska is a Catholic, non-profit organization that provides services to people of all faiths and backgrounds. The agency offers a wide range of programs and services to meet the needs of individuals and families, including food assistance, clothing and household items, and transportation services.

Boellstorff said, “I am excited to be part of this opportunity. We have something amazing here that we can build on and strengthen to better serve our community. We are committed to making a difference in the lives of those we serve.”

The agency is headquartered in Auburn and has locations in Lincoln, Grand Island, Norfolk, and North Platte. Catholic Social Services is a member of the National Catholic Social Action Network and is a partner agency of the Diocese of Grand Island.

Boellstorff can be reached at 402-274-3131 or aprilboellstorff@catholicssn.org.

Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska offers a variety of services to help people in need. These include food assistance, clothing and household items, transportation services, and crisis intervention.

The agency strives to provide a warm, welcoming environment where people feel respected and valued.

Please visit the Catholic Social Services of Southern Nebraska website for more information about the services they offer.